ADVANTAGE.

One of the advantages offered by this platform is to eliminate bureaucratic obstacles, allowing users to interact with each other directly.

The personal information of Ethereum users is not at risk on this platform. Here, your personal information, your funds and their content remain confidential and it can track your funds and personal data at all times.

Because it is decentralized, its main advantage is that it is a transparent platform, that is to say, hacker-proof.

It allows you to launch your own currency, you can create any type of company shares on the platform or represent the ownership of any object.

It has the ability to reduce costs, ensuring transparency and trust between the interaction of smart contracts.

It serves to eliminate the barriers of mistrust between the parties. The fact that Ethereum is, by its very design, resistant to fraud and adulteration, means that it offers a whole new range of solutions to everyday problems that are currently being solved at exorbitant costs.
